Bronner Doubts Democracies Ever Can Head Off Hitler Now

This picture, newly received in America, shows Adolf Hitler in one of the moments that marked the supreme triumph of his dramatic ventures into the field of foreign relations. The Fuehrer (right) had drawn to Godesberg, Germany, the Prime Minister of the world's greatest empire—Neville Chamberlain (left) of Great Britain. Here they emerge from their conference room after Hitler had made the "final demands" for Czechoslovakian territory to which all Europe eventually capitulated.

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Eng.—If the statesmen in the foreign offices of Europe had taken the care to study Adolf Hitler's book, "Mein Kampf," and the 25 points he enunciated therein, they would not today be astounded that he towers above all of them and represents a power which it is very doubtful whether the democracies now can stop.

Dickson and Johnson Convicted After Anderson and His Wife

A QUICK DECISION

Hot Springs Jury Returns Verdict With But Small Delay

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Earl Witt passed final sentence of death Thursday upon Joseph B. Anderson, 37, and his wife Lucille, 33, and ordered them executed in the state's electric chair November 18 for the slaying of Eldon Cooley, Hot Springs grocery chain official.

Four Convicted

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—Judge Earl Witt sentenced four persons to the electric chair Thursday for the slaying of Eldon Cooley, Hot Springs grocery chain official.

The verdict in the Dickson-Johnson trial was returned at 6:03 p. m. after the jury had deliberated little more than an hour. Comparatively few spectators were present because of the late hour.

Both Dickson and Johnson appeared stunned. It was evident that they had not expected the supreme penalty. It was only after some urging that they consented to talk.

"I don't care to make any statement until I have talked to my attorney," said Dickson finally. "But this verdict is a big surprise. I think it is unjust. I am innocent."

"I don't want to talk either, but I think like you, that the verdict was severe and unjust," said Johnson.

Johnson was asked about his testimony in which he said that his own wife had testified to a falsehood.

"That's right; I don't know what I

Bobcats Hope for 4th Victory Here Against DeQueen

Big Crowd Expected for Battle at Hammons' Stadium Friday

5 CONFERENCE TILTS

Blytheville to Invade Little Rock for "Big" Game of Week

By LEONARD ELLIS
Drilled to halt plays from spread formation, the shovel pass and to stop the end sweeps of "King" Cole, the Hope High School football team was ready Thursday for its important engagement here Friday night against the dangerous DeQueen Leopards.

The kickoff is set for 8 o'clock. The admission will be 50 cents.

Bobcat coaches also have spent considerable time this week on offensive drills which they hope will give the team an improved running attack with Joe Eason doing most of the blocking to pave the way for Coleman, Samuels, Baker and Daniels.

Have Big Team
Although the weights of the Leopards were not available here Thursday morning, reliable reports say the team will average 170 pounds which compares favorably with that of the Bobcat team.

The Leopards are led by a 175-pound slashing quarterback, "King" Cole, who does most of the running, passing and kicking. Cole has been the spearhead of the Leopards' offense all season and it was he who intercepted the pass and raced 60 yards through the Catholic High team of Little Rock last Friday.

DeQueen also boasts a fine tackle in Barker who plays on the left side of his line. A large delegation from DeQueen is expected to be on hand with several school buses scheduled to bring students here for the game.

Many Prescott fans will have an opportunity to view the game as the Curley Wolves have already played this week, defeating Greenwood Tuesday night by a top-sided score.

We look for a hard battle as DeQueen always has a fighting, determined team, but we also look for the Bobcats to be on top at the finish, 20 to 0.

Five Conference Games
There will be five games in the Arkansas High School conference race this week-end with the main attraction centered at the Little Rock High School stadium where the Blytheville Chicks battle the Tigers.

Blytheville supporters contend that the "jinx" has been following the team, but we believe central and south Arkansas teams are a shade too tough.

We pick the Little Rock goes to Forrest City where the Wildcats should have no trouble in winning their second conference victory, 26 to 7.

The Camden Panthers will be at home against the Texarkana Razorbacks. The Panthers have lost three straight and are reported injured for their clash against the Razorbacks. Despite this, the Panthers will break in the win column, 14 to 7.

The Purdy Redbugs will be at Pine Bluff. We can't see anything but a third conference win for the Zebras in easy fashion, 20 to 0.

The Hot Springs Trojans invade El Dorado in another conference battle. We name the Wildcats as the winner by three touchdowns despite their narrow escape at Nashville last week.

Benton should have no trouble with Morrilton at the Benton stadium and we pick them to be in front at the finish by four touchdowns.

Russellville will be at home against Ozark. Clarksville whipped Ozark 44 to 0 in the opening game of the season—so Russellville is picked by a heavy score.

Jonesboro will play host to Catholic High in another conference game this Friday night. A hard battle with Jonesboro the winner, 13 to 6.

Okmulgee, Okla., invades Fort Smith. The Grizzlies appear a touchdown better, 7 to 0.

Clarksville will have just a little too much to offer Van Buren at Clarksville Friday night. The Panthers, 13 to 0.

Concluding, we pick Arkansas to whip Baylar at Fayetteville Saturday, 21 to 14.

Bid Received for Paving on No. 79

Offers Also Made for Keepers' Houses on Freed Toll Bridges

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The State Highway Commission received Thursday competitive bids on five road projects and a contract for laying the foundations for the state's new three-story office building on the state capital grounds.

Only four bids were received for the toll-bridge keepers' houses on the five bridges which were made free spans by the state this year.

Apparent low bids on the highway jobs included:

Columbia county: 4.58 miles of black-top paving, Magnolia-McNeil road, U. S. highway No. 79, Ben M. Hogan, Little Rock, $69,747.63.

Bids on the toll-bridge houses included:

Calion and Felsenthal bridges: Clyde E. Byrd, El Dorado, $256.25 each.

Garland bridge: Garland City Special School District, $675.

Peace Prospects Boom U. S. Stocks

Munich Pact Exerts Favorable Influence on Markets

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Wall Street's week-old "peace" boom sent many stocks Wednesday to the highest prices quoted this year and echoed in trade reports of increasing activity since business was freed of the recent war restraints. Hundreds of millions of dollars were added to the billions in quoted security values restored to four-power Munich conference a week ago.

In Wall Street, a fresh surge of buying following a pause Tuesday lifted industrial shares on the average to the highest prices in about a year. Du Pont soared $5.50 to $144. General Motors $1.87 to $50.50. Westinghouse Electric $5.67 to $112.50. U. S. Steel $2.50 to $61.87 and Sears Roebuck $2 to $75.50.

The breadth of the buying, embracing bonds and commodities as well as stocks, reminded observers of the spectacular mid-year upsurge, which stalled in July shortly before the gathering European war clouds began to worry Wall street's who had been buying securities in expectation of business recovery.

Various reminders of business revival at home cropped up in the day's news, including:

A Wall Street report that Yonkers steel operations had increased further with the addition of two open hearth furnaces by Carnegie-Illinois Steel and the lighting of a blast furnace by Republic Steel.

A compilation showing September engineering construction work was the largest for any comparable period since 1929.

Brick demand for certain raw materials, including hides and rubber. A boost in the domestic price of copper to 10 1/2 cents a pound, up one-eighth.

Registration with the SEC of a $50,000,000 Firestone Tire and Rubber bond issue in a revival of new corporate financing.

Two Home Runs in Late Innings Give Yanks 6 to 3 Win

Crosetti and DiMaggio Hit Homers in 8th and 9th Innings

2ND WIN FOR YANKS

Dizzy Dean Hurts Well Until Eighth and Then Blasted

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago.—The New York Yankees waited until the late innings to turn on their power to blast Dizzy Dean from the box and win the second game of the world series here Thursday, 6 to 3.

Dean pitched a great game, allowing but three hits until he faced the Yankees at the start of the eighth. He managed to get two outs and then Frank Crosetti stepped to the plate and hammered a home run into the left field stands, scoring one ahead of him.

Crosetti's homer was the first of the series and it put the Yankees in the lead, 4 to 3. It was the fourth hit off Dean. Rolfe fanned for the third out in the eighth.

The Cubs failed to score in their half of the eighth.

When Dean faced the Yankees in the ninth, Tommy Henrich led off with a single to left. Joe DiMaggio then came up and caught one of Dean's pitches for a home run, the ball clearing the left field wall.

Larry French relieved Dean and got the Yanks out without further damage. The Cubs threatened to score in their half of the final inning. With two out, Jurgis walked. Phil Cavarretta got a single to left, but Stanley Hack lined to Crosetti for the final out.

For seven innings Dean had the Yanks handcuffed, allowing but three hits. In the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings, Dean set the Yankees down three in a row.

Lefty Gomez was the starting pitcher for New York and was in trouble in every inning. He retired in the eighth for a pinch hitter after giving up a total of ten hits. Johnny Murphy pitched the balance of the game and allowed one hit.

The total hits showed the Cubs got 11 while the Yankees were collecting seven. The two home runs by Crosetti and DiMaggio spoiled the day for the Cubs.

Joe Marty, Cub outfielder, got four hits in four trips to the plate and drove in all three Chicago runs. The two teams will be idle Friday and will resume the series at New York Saturday.

The score by innings:
Yankees ..... 0 2 0 0 0 0 2 0 6
Chicago ..... 1 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 3

Describes Week at Clubs' Camp

Mrs. Carroll Schooley Outlines Camp Robinson Experience

By MRS. CARROLL SCHOOLEY
Did you, by any reason, happen by the city hall on Tuesday, September 6, and wonder what was happening? It looked like a few women might have been moving with all the suitcases and bundles stacked all about the entrance. We were just about to be off for Camp Robinson where we were to spend four days of rest from home duties. No, we didn't go there to sleep but to enjoy the various programs and the meeting of old and new friends.

We left the city hall about 9:30 o'clock in a school bus that was loaded. The weather was fine and everyone in good spirits. First we all tried to get acquainted and come to know each other better. Everyone enjoyed the dinner at the Park in Arkansas at about 4:30 o'clock that evening we stopped at Camp Robinson where about 1,200 farm women had already arrived.

Miss Bullington had gone on ahead of the bus and registered for all the members. All we had to do was get off at our tents and start unpacking as the National Guards were kind enough to leave their tents up for us to use as sleeping quarters in the same tent. After making our beds we were all ready for a shower. And was that refreshing after a long drive! It was then time for supper, after which we had a lawn party—a lot of music and games that all could enjoy. After a delightful time we were all ready for bed.

The next two days were filled with educational talks as well as fun. You could do as you pleased but I think the majority chose to go to the various meetings. Some of the outstanding talks to me were "Neighborhood and Manners Begin at Home," "Personal

Chamber of Commerce Begins Annual Canvass for Members

Committees from the Chamber of Commerce began Thursday to solicit memberships in that organization and will continue until every business and professional man in Hope has been asked to support the Chamber during the next year.

The budget for the coming year has been set at $6,500 and this can be easily reached if everyone who should will contribute a reasonable sum. A very large part of the local merchants and manufacturers give liberally and the present campaign is to enlist the support of the professional men, individuals, and out-of-town stores which operate in Hope. If these will give in proportion to the local merchants and manufacturers, the budget will be fully subscribed.

Beginning Friday a complete list of those individuals, firms and corporations who have pledged and the amount of each pledge will be published. As additional pledges come in they will be publicly acknowledged.

Chief Baker Gets Police Dog Back

Missing "Bodie" Found After Trip to a House Near Gurdon

It's news when a chief of police's dog disappears, it is also news when the dog is found again.

Chief of Police and Sheriff-Elect Clarence E. Baker got a new story in The Star Tuesday when he reported that his police dog "Bodie" had been missing for more than a week. When the paper hit the street C. E. Messer, manager of a local cream station, told Chief Baker he believed he had seen the dog on the streets of Gurdon.

Wednesday Chief and Mrs. Baker drove to Gurdon. The night marshal there said a dog answering "Bodie's" description showed up occasionally and followed the night police around Gurdon. The marshal believed the dog was claimed by a woman living near Gurdon.

The bakers drove out to the woman's house. Pretty soon she came up in her car, and with her was "Bodie." The woman explained that on a recent trip to Hope "Bodie" got in her car and wouldn't get out—so she drove home with him.

But "Bodie" was glad enough to see Baker—and vice versa, said the chief.

Spring Hill Gets New Cotton Unit

"Minimum Income Ass'n." Meetings at Guernsey and Emmet

Spring Hill farmers Wednesday night organized the first Hempstead county local of the Cotton Farmers' Minimum Income association, sponsor of a plan to give every cotton-growing family a parity price of 16 cents a pound on all cotton sold, up to five bales to the family.

Officers elected by members of the Spring Hill group were: F. W. Raschke, president; Lewis C. Yocum, vice-president and Roy Butler, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting, at which Mr. Butler presided, was addressed by Robert J. Lambert, one of the Arkansas incorporators of the association, which is being organized throughout the state and in other cotton states. Lambert explained that the purpose of the group is to obtain enactment of a federal law which would end acreage control, keep the government out of the price-fixing field and put the distribution of government benefits to cotton-growers on a basis of equality as between family units.

Lambert said the proposal is merely that the government pay each farmer, whether owner, tenant or share-cropper, the difference between the price at which he sells his cotton on the open market and parity price of 16 cents a pound, up to five bales to the family.

It was Lambert's contention that by

Miles Given New Federal Position

Fort Smith Appointed Solicitor for Postoffice Department

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Vincent M. Miles of Fort Smith, Ark., former member of the Social Security Board, became solicitor for the Postoffice Department Wednesday. He was appointed by Postmaster General Farley to replace Karl A. Crowley, who resigned last summer to enter the Texas gubernatorial race. Miles took office immediately.

The new solicitor had been a special assistant to the attorney general and a regional adviser for the Public Works Administration prior to joining the Social Security Board, when it was organized in 1935.

He is a native of Marion, Va. He practiced law in Fort Smith, and Little Rock, Ark., and twice served as Democratic national committeeman from that state. Miles is 53.

Prisoner Is Found a Suicide in Cell

Alleged to Have Confessed in Robbery, He Hangs Himself

MORRILTON, Ark.—(AP)—A man described by officers Thursday as Walter DuVall, 48, of Russellville, hanged himself in the county jail during the night.

His body was found suspended from a blanket which had been looped around the neck and tied to a bar across the top of the cell.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Thomas, of Morrilton, and State Police Officer O. E. Bowden said the man was brought here Wednesday night for questioning in connection with a burglary investigation at Russellville.

Bowden asserted the prisoner had made a confession to participation in the case.

New Food and Drugs Law Contains Strict Pro- visions on Labeling

(This is the fourth of five articles by Dr. Fisher in which he discusses the powers of protection afforded by national food and drug legislation in the United States.)

There are certain drugs which are known to be habit-forming, or which are suspected of being habit-forming.
Whenever these drugs or combinations are sold, except on written prescription of a doctor, dentist, or veterinarian, the label must show the name, quantity, or percentage of each one of these substances, and must contain the statement "Warning—May be habit-forming."

The drugs concerned are: alpha eucaine, barbituric acid, betacaine, bromal, cannabim, carbomal, chloral, cocca, codeine, heroin, marijuana, morphine, opium paralyde, peyote, and sulphonmethane.

When such drugs are dispensed on the prescription of a physician, dentist, or veterinarian, the label must also be as described, unless the prescription is marked by the writer as "not refillable," or unless the law itself prevents refilling of the prescription.

The public also secures additional protection from the fact that, under the law, drugs, diagnostic and therapeutic devices, including those sold on prescription of doctor, dentist, or vet-erinarman, must be labeled with adequate directions, and with adequate warnings against use in any disease or as used by children when their use may be dangerous to health.

The provisions of the law with respect to purity and labeling of cosmetics are rather general. The law forbids the inclusion in cosmetics of any poisonous or deleterious ingredient, when it can be shown that these may render the cosmetics injurious to the user under the conditions of use prescribed on the label or

MYRNA DOMBEY—heroin, paper photographer—detective.

ANNE LESTER—Myrna's close-est friend.
DANNY FERRY—other assassin in the Ludden Dumby's murder.

Yesterday, Police told Tait to bring in Myrna. He wonders where she is and he realizes, too, that somehow he is going to be in this affair to the end.

CHAPTER IV

THE taxi veered to the curb in front of the Claremont Apartments, and Bob Tait's foot was on the running board even before it stopped. Hurriedly he paid the driver and waved him on. A quick glance told him that there was no police car parked nearby.
He hoped that Officer Dunphy hadn't come in a taxi and betrayed his easy nature by rushing things.

In the entrance way of the Claremont he almost collided with a woman on her way out. She was a striking honey-colored blond, almost too fragile and beautiful to be real. For a scant second her eyes met Tait's, then turned away. She hurried on and down the street, leaving a wake of not too faint perfume. Tait grinned to himself and let out an involuntary whistle.

At another time he might have speculated a little about that beautiful blond—but not now. He scanned the mail-box board, found a neatly lettered card with the names: Myrna Rogers—Anne Lester. Their apartment was on the third floor, and in his haste
Tait scorned the automatic lift.
The stairs he took three and four at a time.

HE listened a moment at the door before he pressed the bell. To his intense relief there was no sound of Mike Dunphy's indiscreet, blustering voice. But when Anne Lester opened the door her distracted eyes told him that trouble was brewing.

"Myrna's not here," she said.
"What shall we do?"

Tait stepped inside the room and closed the door. "No note—nothing?"

The girl shook her head. "I don't believe she came here at all from the Pacific Plaza."

"This is bad," Tait told her.
"Dunphy, from police headquarters, is on his way here now. It's going to look bad when he finds Anne's gaze. 'Are you sure you don't know where she might be?'

Anne shook her head. "I've been trying to think—ever since I got here. The—the only possibility that came to me is—is that what happened at the Golden Bowl made her lose her head."

For a moment Tait did not answer. He tried to fathom beyond Anne Lester's seemingly frank glance; "Listen," he burst out,
"do you have any reason to believe that Myrna killed Dumby tonight? There must be—" He stopped, shrugged his shoulders.
"It wouldn't do any good to ask you that. Even if you thought she were guilty, you'd lie for her."

Anne Lester's answer came swiftly. "You're right, I would.
I'd go further than that for Myrna. But she didn't do it. She was in love with him. Couldn't you tell that when you walked up to that table tonight?"

"I'm afraid I had something else on my mind. You see, I'd just lost a job and was trying to figure a way to get it back. That's what I should be doing now. I wish I knew why I'm not."

Anne clutched her arm. "Please help us. I—I'm afraid, I knew something was going to happen tonight. I kept feeling it. And I know this is going to mean trouble for Myrna. We've got to find her.
We've—" She caught her breath, looked up at Tait with a sudden new light. "They might be after her now! If they wanted to kill Lud Dumby, why wouldn't they want to kill his wife, too?"

MRS. SID HENRY TELEPHONE 321

A Plea
Grant me to close the day without regret;
Let me not into careless conduct fall,
Gaining my little purposes, and yet
Wishing some hasty words I could recall.
Increase my stock of patience, I pray!
Let me not whimper loudly at my care;
Let me take pride at evening in the day.
I met the trials which were mine to bear.
Teach me to plait the man in little things,
To suffer disappointments when I must,
To brave the irritation failure brings
And still be kind and generous and just.

Let me not stain my victories with hate;
When night comes on let me look back and see
In all that I have accomplished, small or great,
Nothing which brings regret or shame
to me.—E. A. G.

Miss Maggie Bell's paper related to the Indian trails through New England and told of the colonists using these trails and the hardships endured in going over them, some of which have become among the most noted and beautiful trails in the world. Mrs. W. R. Hamilton discussed "The Youth Trials of New England" contrasting a hike of that period and what we would call a hike of today, when it does not lose its significance by taking on a new connection—"hitch".

Miss Fuller Named Nevada Fair Queen

Bodeaw Girl Chosen Over Eight Other Candidates for Honor

PRESCOTT, Ark.—Miss Louise Fuller of Bodeaw was elected queen of the Nevada county fair Wednesday night and will reign over the remainder of the fair.

She was crowned by S. H. Cadenhead, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. She was elected over eight other aspirants from various sections of the county.

Five thousand persons attended the opening day of the Nevada county fair here Wednesday and witnessed a parade which covered the business district.

Fifteen organizations entered floats in the parade. The judges awarded first prize to the queen's float, sponsored by the Prescott Garden club, and second to the Rotary club float. McRae High School received the prize for negro floats with its replica of the Negro High School constructed by students.

First prize for bands was awarded to the Prescott band. Oscar Stovers of Pleasant Hill community was declared the best clown in the parade.

The queen's float was occupied by Mrs. Zettie Griffith Jobe, queen of last year's fair, and nine contestants for this year's queen, to be selected Thursday.

As the parade disbanded, the Prescott Hardware Company's float caught fire and all decorations were destroyed. The Fire Department prevented serious damage to the truck.

The fair opened at the new gymnasium at 1 p. m. with an address by County Judge J. W. Bradley. The afternoon was devoted to community singing, readings and one-act plays.

The livestock and chicken exhibits are the best in the history of the fair, while other exhibits from practically every community in the county are above the average. Livestock judging will be held Thursday the fair closing Friday night.

4 Persons to Die

said, agreed Johnson.

"I hope you'll give us a break and won't be too tough on us," concluded Dickson.

Mrs. Hazel Johnson, wife of the man who had just been convicted, was seated nearby.

Wife's Opinion
Asked as to her opinion of the verdict in her husband's case, she replied: "I think it is very severe. I don't think Bill deserved it. I don't believe he had anything to do with that killing."

However, she insisted that she had told the truth when she testified that her husband had given her $16, saying that it was "shut-mouth" money and that he had warned her not to tell anyone that the Andersons had been at their home.

When Anderson was asked to make a statement he quickly repeated his assertion that his wife had no connection with the Cooley killing. To protect her appears to have been his first thought ever since he has been in custody.

As to the Dickson-Johnson case, Anderson's reply was prompt.

"It was a just verdict," he said. "I want to say again that I told the truth."

All four of the persons in danger of the electric chair seemed most interested in a prospective conference with their lawyers who announced that they will appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court if their request for a new trial is refused.

As soon as the interviews had ended, Sheriff Anderson ordered the prisoners removed from the city to an unannounced jail. They were handcuffed together and placed in a State Police car in charge of Sgt. Ed Clark and Officer F. Haynie with Officer Bill Armstrong as driver.

Winifred Rhodes brings to the problem of daily life the approach of the modern psychologist who recognizes religion as a powerful aid to successful, courageous living. In these troubled and uncertain times many people are searching for a more complete and satisfying philosophy. There are chapters on learning to live, on turning unadjustment into adjustment, on the art of not worrying on relaxation and power. Mr. Rhodes offers, in combining psychology with a true understanding of the meaning of religion, a challenge to all who want to achieve a joyous and well-rounded life.

Lithium, the lightest metal known, is obtained from an alkaline substance called lithia. It was discovered in 1817.

The word "acre," taken from the Anglo-Saxon "aeger," originally meant a field of any size.

A Statement of Public Policy

by The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

The Honorable Wright Patman, representative in Congress of the first district of Texas, has announced that he will introduce in the next Congress a punitive and discriminatory tax bill frankly designed to put chain stores out of business. In the past, Mr. Patman has been very successful in securing enactment of legislation which he has sponsored. He has demonstrated that he is a very able lobbyist and propagandist for his own bills. The management of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company is therefore faced with the necessity of deciding upon a course of action in relation to this proposed legislation—whether to do nothing and risk the possibility of the passage of the bill and the resulting forced dissolution of this business, or to engage in an active campaign in opposition to the bill.

In arriving at a decision, the interests of several groups of people deserve consideration—the management, the 85,600 employees of the company, the consuming public, the millions of farmers producing the country's food, and labor.

1. The Interests of the Management

The interests of the management can be dismissed as of very little importance.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company is managed by George L. Hartford and John A. Hartford under an arrangement made by their father, George Huntington Hartford, the founder of the business. George L. Hartford has been actively engaged in the grocery business for 58 years, working generally six days a week, 52 weeks a year during that entire period. John A. Hartford has been actively engaged in the grocery business for 50 years, working generally six days a week, 52 weeks a year during that period. Both of these men could, of course, retire without personal or financial inconvenience and live very comfortably if chain stores were put out of business. The record of the last calendar year shows that out of any money earned annually from the business, in the case of George L. Hartford, 82 percent is paid to government in taxes; in the case of John A. Hartford, 83 percent is paid to government in taxes. As neither of the brothers has any children, any monies left out of their earnings would accrue to their estates, and in the event of their death, inheritance taxes would probably amount to two-thirds of such accrued earnings, leaving approximately 6 cents on the dollar as a motive for continued personal service.

It is therefore apparent that the interests of management need hardly be taken into consideration in arriving at a decision.

2. The Interests of the Employees

The interests of the employees of the company are, however, a matter of very grave concern.

It is simply a statement of fact to say that the employees of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company generally throughout the United States receive the highest wages and have the shortest working hours of any workers in the grocery business, whether chain store or individual grocer. Many of them have devoted all of their working lives to the interests of the company.

The management, therefore, has a definite obligation and duty to defend the interests of these 85,600 employees against legislation intended to throw all of them out of work.

3. The Interests of the Consumer

Since this business has been built by the voluntary patronage of millions of American families, we believe that we must give consideration to their interests in this matter. Millions of women know how acute is the present problem of providing food, clothing and shelter for themselves, their husbands and their children out of their present income. When food prices go up it is not a question of paying more for the same food. They do not have the additional money with which to pay. Therefore, they must buy less and eat less. A & P Food Stores last year distributed at retail $881,700,000 worth of food at a net profit of 1%.

This food was sold to the public at prices averaging from eight to ten percent lower than the prices of the average individual grocer. Literally, millions of sales were made at prices twenty-five percent lower than those of the average individual grocer. This saving of eight to twenty-five cents on each dollar is of vital importance to these millions of families. If they were denied the opportunity to buy at these lower prices it would simply mean that in millions of homes they would have to leave meat off the table another day a week, eat less fresh fruits and vegetables, give the growing child one bottle of milk less every week or stint on butter, cheese, poultry, eggs and many other of the most nourishing foods.

In the last 10 years during the greatest period of chain store growth, the number of individual dealers has increased rather than decreased. We maintain that there is nothing wrong when these dealers charge more than we charge. They must charge these prices in order to make a fair profit. The average grocer will, upon request, deliver the groceries to the customer's door and in many cases extends credit to some of his customers. Delivery service costs money. The grocer must put this added cost in the prices to his customers. In the same way the extension of credit involves the expense of bookkeeping, the tying up of capital, and credit losses. There is nothing wrong in the higher mark up of the individual grocer, because he is rendering a service that justifies his prices.

If some customers can afford and voluntarily elect to pay a higher price for groceries and meats because they want credit or because they want delivery to their homes it is quite proper that they should pay an additional price for such service. However, the millions of families in this country whose income is limited and who can have more and better food because they are willing to pay cash and carry home their own purchases, should not be denied this opportunity. Millions of families of limited incomes can only enjoy their present standard of living through these economies and savings. These millions of American families have helped us build a great business because they believe we have rendered them a great service. The company, therefore, has an obligation and a duty to protect the interests of these customers.

4. The Interests of the Farmer

Eight million farm families are engaged in producing the food consumed by the American people. All of the farm homes in America, therefore, comprising one-fourth of all of the population of the United States, have a direct interest in the methods of distribution by which the products of their labor and of the soil are marketed.

Approximately 30% of their production is marketed through the chain food stores; about 70% through individual grocers. Their fruits, vegetables and other foodstuffs are sold through the chain stores at prices averaging 8% to 10% cheaper than the prices at which they are sold by many grocers. If the farmer sells a given product to both at the same price, the individual grocer must charge the public more to take care of his higher costs. Thus 30% of the farmer's products reach the public at low prices and 70% of his products reach the public at higher prices.

If the public cannot consume a given crop of apples, potatoes, berries or any other product, at the prices at which they are offered, these goods do not move from the grocer's shelves; a surplus accumulates and the farmer finds that he either cannot sell the balance of his crop or must sell it at a substantial loss. Only too often a situation arises when it is literally cheaper for the farmer to let his apples or his peaches rot on the ground than to expend the labor costs necessary to pack and ship them. Every farm economist knows that a 10% surplus does not mean 10% less return to the farmer but often more than 20% less return.

In other words, the farmer's problem is to sell his products at the cost of production plus a fair profit and to get them to the public with as few intermediate costs and profits as possible. It is therefore obviously unfair to the farmer to propose legislation which would, at a single blow, wipe out 30% of his distributing machinery—and that 30% the part which maintains the price to the farmer yet reaches the public at low cost because of economical distribution. It would be just as unfair to the farmer to propose putting out of business all of the individual grocers of the country who distribute 70% of his produce. Both chain food stores and individual grocers perform a distributive function vital to the interests of the farmer. If either failed to function the farmer would be faced with tremendous surpluses and heartbreaking losses.

For years the A & P has dealt with the farmers both as producers and consumers. We feel that we have a definite obligation and duty to oppose any legislative attack upon their best interests.

5. The Interests of Labor

Every business in this country has a vital interest in the purchasing power of labor. When labor has high wages and great purchasing power, everyone is prosperous. When labor's purchasing power is curtailed, all business suffers and the American standard of living is impaired. For many years it has been the wise policy of the national government to protect real wages and the purchasing power of the worker's dollar. Combinations or agreements to raise prices, thus reducing real wages, have been declared illegal.

It certainly seems strange that it should now be proposed to destroy a group of businesses for the frankly admitted reason that they furnish the necessities of life to the wage earner and his family at low prices. There are approximately 900,000 workers directly employed in the chain store industry. What course is open to us but to oppose the action of a man who, at a time when more than 11,000,000 wage earners are already out of work and 3,000,000 families on relief, proposes a bill that would add almost another million to the roll of unemployed, wipe out 30% of the distributing machinery of all of the farmers of the United States, and raise the cost of living of the wage earners of the United States.

We believe that our organization has rendered a great service to the American people and that it is as a result of that service that we have prospered. If we consulted our own interest it would be very easy to stop and enjoy whatever leisure we have earned. No one is dependent upon us except our fellow workers. However, after the fullest consideration of all interests, we have arrived at the decision that we would be doing less than our full duty if we failed to oppose, by every fair means, legislation proposed by the Honorable Wright Patman.

As we have said, Mr. Patman is an able politician, an able lobbyist and an able propagandist. In that field he is an expert. We are experts only in the grocery business. We believe the chain stores have a right to present their case to the American people. We will not go into politics, nor will we establish a lobby in Washington for the purpose of attempting to influence the vote of any member of the Congress. We expect only a full and fair opportunity to present the case for the chain stores as a great service organization for the American people.

Since the task we have set before us is one involving the widest dissemination of complete information to all of the American people, and since this is a profession in which we are not expert, we have engaged Carl Byoir & Associates, public relations counsel, to do this work. We realize that our views are seldom news. We know, therefore, that we must be prepared to spend a substantial sum of money in telling our story to all of the American people. We declare now that this money will be spent in the dissemination of information through paid advertising and every medium available to us, and in cooperating in the work or formation of study groups among consumers, farmers and workers, which provide open forums for a discussion of all measures affecting the cost of living.

We believe that when the American people have all of the facts they will make their decision known to their representatives in Congress. As Americans we will be content with that decision.

ities of Great Women," address by Governor, and "Education for Efficient and Satisfying Family Life." Of course there were many others but these were of special interest to me. There was homemaker fun for the family, swimming or just chatting with your friends. Late every evening we all looked forward to getting our camp paper. I wish all of you could have seen the beautiful things on display. There were rugs, quilts, bedspreads, pine needle baskets, dresses, and many other things that I cannot attempt to name. You could see that someone had been busy from all the pretty things there. Hempstead county had the honor of making grade A on the scrap book, afternoon dress, church dress, house dress, and B on the boy's suit. I know you have never seen more beautiful handwork in any fair than we saw.

Friday morning we were all up early and ready to start for home. Several of the buses stopped in Little Rock for the free movie. Our bunch stopped for sightseeing and shopping. We left there about 10:30 o'clock. Had dinner at Benton. After a very enjoyable trip we arrived at the city hall in Hope about 6:15 o'clock. Of course we enjoyed every minute of our trip but as the old saying goes, "There's no place like home."
